

Developing Algebraic Reasoning Using Progressive Formalization

Kim Bunning
University of Colorado Boulder
USA

In this interactive session we will investigate how progressive formalization, and the use of select contexts and representations, is exemplified in the algebra strand of Mathematics in Context. Mathematical activities and solution strategies will be explored to highlight learning trajectories move students from informal to pre-formal to formal understanding. The role of the teacher and classroom discourse to support student learning with this approach will also be discussed.